

ONLINE TERMS OF USE

Your use of the online services (the service) provided by Thomson Reuters (Professional) Australia Limited (ABN 64 058 914 668) ("us") via this website is subject to the conditions set out in this document. Your use of the service is deemed acceptance of these terms. If you do not agree to these terms, please exit the service now and delete all records on your system:

1. Supply and Grant of Licence

Subject to the further terms and conditions set out in this document, you are granted a non-exclusive, non-transferable limited licence to:

- 1.1 access and use data made available on the service;
- 1.2 download and temporarily store insubstantial portions of such data to a storage device under your exclusive control;
- 1.3 internally display such downloaded data; and
- 1.4 reproduce such data subject to the further limitations set out in these conditions.

2. Use of the Publications

- 2.1 The publications appearing on the service are not a substitute for legal or other professional advice.
- 2.2 Information appearing in the publications available on the service may only be used by you for the purposes of research, study, supplying educational services; and inclusion in essays, theses, papers, submissions, communications to and publications for students, tutors and lecturers; the preparation of course notes and subject guides and other like documents (work product), provided:
 - (a) reproduction of content in work product does not represent a substantial proportion of the content of any single publication accessed via the service,
 - (b) you may not undertake these activities for or on behalf of a third party unrelated to your organisation;
 - (c) the work product is not made available for sale;
 - (d) where you are accessing a news service, you may not communicate, download or reproduce any content from that service at all without first obtaining our express prior written permission; and
 - (d) recipients of the work product are not permitted to make further reproductions of such material.

3. Intellectual Property Rights

- 3.1 All intellectual property rights in the software and the publications available on the service are and remain the exclusive property of ourselves or third party suppliers as the case may be. When using the publications and the service, you must comply with the law including, without limitation, copyright laws.
- 3.2 Unless permitted by law or as otherwise expressly permitted in these conditions, you must not, nor must you authorise any third person to:
 - (a) reproduce, copy, download, scrape, store, publish, transmit, transfer, communicate, distribute, disseminate, sell, rent, lend or otherwise use the publications or the service, or any part of the publications or service, in any form or by any means;
 - (b) modify or make any alterations, additions or amendments to any part of the publications downloaded from the service;
 - (c) make the service available to any person other than an authorised user;
 - (d) convert material downloaded from the service into an electronic format other than the one in which it was supplied;
 - (e) reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble or otherwise attempt to discern the source code of the components of the service or reproduce all or any portion of the said components;
 - (f) remove, alter, circumvent or tamper with any trade marks, copyright notices, copyright protection devices, disclaimers or other legal notices;
 - (g) combine the whole or any part of the data available on the service with any other software, data or material; or
 - (h) store or use any part of such data in an archival database or other searchable database except as forming part of any work product.

4. Hypertext Links

The service contains hypertext reference links and other pointers to internet websites operated by third parties. These linked websites are not under our control and we are not responsible for the contents of any linked website or any hypertext reference link contained in a linked website. We provide these links to you as a convenience only, and the inclusion of any link does not imply any sponsorship or endorsement of the linked website, or approval of any material on the website, by us. We make no warranties or representations regarding the quality, accuracy, merchantability or fitness for purpose of any material on other websites to which content is linked. You link to any such website entirely at your own risk. When visiting other websites you should refer to each such website's individual terms of use and not rely on these terms.
